

United States
Unit Audit Charges
(Effective July 1, 2007)

A unit audit analyzes the number of plants and establishments a publication reaches, broken down by deographic area and one or more of the following: buisness/occupation; function; business volume; and/or number of employees.

The unit audit is conducted in conjunction with the regular circulation audit. At the option of the publisher, the report may be released as part of the standard 12-month circulation audit report, or as a separate audit report. After release of a unit audit report, a publication may report unit data on interim cirulation statements or as a separate interim statement.
